

From Diapers...
To Duct Tape

Facilitator Training

Description of the training:

This is a six hour training that utilizes an balance of hands on activities, group work and multimedia presentations. The eight week family literacy program uses a variety of children's story books to help fathers in your program understand the objectives of the program listed below. The use of children's story books allows us to engage fathers at most literacy levels and increase their literacy skills as well while modeling to them how they can use the books to teach their own children life lessons and social competencies on their own.

This program can be used as a family literacy program or a Father Support Group or Parenting Program that utilizes family literacy principles and practices. A fun filled opportunity for anyone who wants to learn more about fun ways to make father friendly accommodations to programs you are already running or start a new program using our session outlines that is entirely geared towards dads of all ages.

Objectives of the program:

1. Increasing awareness of the need for male participation in children's lives.
2. Encouraging the involvement of men as nurturers of young children.
3. Serving as a support group for the fathers of all ages.
4. Promoting positive self-awareness through knowledge of our cultural and family heritages.
5. Providing fathers with the tools to instil positive values in their children, in a holistic manner.
6. Supporting men to be positive role models for children.

1 Day Training— PRE-REQUISITE Introduction to Family Literacy Certificate

Where: Cliff Wright Library Branch Auditorium, Lakewood Civic Center, 1635 McKercher Drive

When: Wednesday, June 1st, 2011 (10:00 am—4:30 pm, lunch included)

Cost: $100/person

Hosted by READ Saskatoon
It's more than words.

Developed by Regina Literacy Network

Balcarres Communities
Literacy Network

To Register Contact:

Desiree Tirk, READ Saskatoon

1-306-652-5448

Or

desiree.tirk@readsaskatoon.com